

SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

The small ruckus which resulted in the state's installing a curb in front of the post office and the reason they gave reminded us of a poem we've remembered for years—it might be one of Edward Lear's. "Of all the sad surprises, there's nothing can compare, with treading in the darkness on a step—which isn't there."

Alpha and Omega just opened their eyes since the paper was published last week. Alpha is the little boy dog and Omega is his little sister. Their mother is "Coffee", and we inherited the little family from the Nazarene preacher—hence their appropriate names. The whole lot will be up for adoption as soon as they are old enough—if we can just keep from getting too attached to them. Coffee (some like and some don't) is especially desirous of settling down—she'd like a nice sort of farmish home with some children around.

By this time next week we may have to announce that our own pet, Wilhelm, affectionately known as Willie, has passed to his reward in dog heaven. A member of the household for over eight years, he is suffering from what amounts to a misplaced disc in the back in humans, and is apparently not going to pull out of it.

Excitement reached a high pitch in our little neighborhood just at dark Thursday evening. Missing and not accounted for were three little culprits, Tommy De Kleer, Joanne Schelling and Kenny Koontz. Everybody's parents, brothers, sisters and friends became really alarmed when darkness began to settle for the night, and the Dutch language was voluble as worried parents became more frantic. The small tykes were least worried of all. They were found by Tommy's dad over at the "sheriff's" on Camp street where there are swings and real live monkeys! Personally, we can't blame the kids. We'd like to go over to the McCoid's, too, and at least watch the monkeys!

Loser Gets Lost Dough!

Little episode of principal characters who shall be nameless will help to restore the readers' faith in human nature. A housewife, busy with life's daily chores, dashed to a neighborhood grocery and back before starting out from home to deliver her husbands' lunch. When she was ready to leave, after a matter of 20 or 30 minutes, she began to scour around for her billfold, which contained over $50!

Becoming alarmed, she called the grocery, but could find no trace of the missing item.

About the time the young matron was getting really frantic, two young maidens from the elementary school nearby knocked on the door. They found the billfold, returned same, and absolutely refused any reward whatever.

This would be a better story if the excited and flustered young matron had thought to ask their names. But isn't it nice to know that such honesty is exemplified right here by products of our own homes and school?

EIGHTH GRADE HONOR PUPILS

Members of the eighth grade class who were graduated from the elementary school with honors were Howard Ray Decker, Ivey Giles, William Kelliker, Rosalie Miller, Paul Morris, Mary Oliviera, Doris Simmons, and Tuby Tsujioka.

SHIP AHOY! Eighth grade students of the Cypress school are shown on the aft part of the deck of the USS Recruit on the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, on Wednesday, May 28. Each year the graduating class visits the zoo and points of interest in San Diego. Money for the annual trip is secured by the sale of Christmas cards and other projects by members of the class.

Four Best Give Graduation Exercise Addresses This Year

Four students in the eighth grade graduating class shared honors as valedictorians at this year's graduation exercises held in the school auditorium Thursday evening. Chosen highest in their class, Ruby Tsujioka, Ivey Giles, Mary Oliviera and Ray Decker had equal qualifications.

Honors were also conferred on Ivey Giles and Ray Decker who were chosen by American Legion Post No. 354 in Buena Park for this year's annual award. Representatives Verne Tillesen and Fred R. Dukes presented medals and lapel pins to the honor students. Awards are based on leadership, scholarship, courage, honor and service. Runners-up were Tommy Nose and Ruby Tsujioka, who received certificates.

June Morimoto spoke a farewell note from the seventh grade class, which was given a worthy response by Paul Morris from the eighth grade. Billy Kelliker and Doris Simmons presented the class history and will.

Rosalie Miller, talented music student for the departing class, was musician, while the Rev. Jack Tutor, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the invocation and pronounced the benediction.

Frank Noe, member of the board of trustees, presented the diplomas to each member of the class as Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent extended congratulations for herself and the board.

Many parents and friends attended the baccalaureate service the preceding Sunday. The eighth graders took their places in the front section of the auditorium to hear an inspiring talk given by the Rev. Clarence G. Eigenhuis, pastor of the Faith Tabernacle. The Rev. Mr. Tutor gave the invocation.

Mrs. Eigenhuis presented a special number in song.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Good and daughter Glenna from Santa Barbara visited their cousins Sunday, Mrs. Anna Rogers, Mrs. Castella Rogers and Miss Alene Rogers of 5571 Vonnie Lane.

School Picnic Is Successful

High spot of the annual school picnic and carnival this year, for Doris Simmons and Robert Miles, at least, was the queen and king contest. They were chosen through a popularity vote to reign in their respective positions. The contest netted the Cypress P.T.A., which sponsors the all-day event, a sum of $24, which is believed to be the highest amount ever raised in the contest since it was begun.

Equally successful were the other money-making projects, as the schoolgrounds assumed an extremely carnival-looking aspect for the event.

Not the least popular was the picnic lunch, which is looked forward to by students, teachers, and the parents alike. The P.T.A. saw to it that there was plenty of delicious food available for those who did not care to pack a basket.

The Earl Sartwell's are the proud possessors of a '51 light green Chevie, which they tested by driving to Banning last week before attempting a longer ride to North Dakota to visit. The car met every requirement!

Big Fire Dance Saturday Night

Always a popular event, Cypress Volunteer Firemen are sponsoring a dance in the fire hall tomorrow night. Proceeds will be used in the purchase of a "rescue truck". This vehicle will be used to transport the resuscitator and other first-aid equipment when it is put into use by the fire lads.

Ed Robinson, in charge of the affair, reminds those who have tickets that four prizes will be given away the evening of the dance. They are a roaster, deep fryer, toaster and radio.

If you are unable to attend, firemen urge the purchase of a ticket to aid a worthy cause anyway. Those who do go are promised an evening of fun and entertainment.

Clubs Will Be Asked To Pick Two White Gold Day Representatives

White Gold Day will be staged by the Cypress Chamber of Commerce, it was unofficially decided at the meeting Monday night at the school house.

Present at the meeting was Park Board chairman Jake Van Dyke, who stated that he would like to see the Chamber take the celebration over. Official action by the Park Board will have to be taken at their meeting this week, however, to relinquish the sponsorship. Since five members of the board were present at the chamber meeting, and they were all in favor of the change, there seemed to be no question as to the outcome of the vote.

Van Dyke has been general chairman of the annual celebration since its institution four years ago, and the affair has progressed so well under his leadership, most observers didn't want to see it discontinued now that the Park Board no longer needs the money from its profits.

Clubs To Be Contacted

Discussion was held by the membership concerning plans for the 1952 event, and it was decided that a committee of Don Caul, Jim Schmitt and Dale Kroesen would outline a rough plan for the celebration, including a letter of explanation to each club in town. The letter will explain that each organization is eligible to sponsor a booth, from which they will be able to keep all profits for their own treasury, and also one event in the entertainment field. Last year, such events were sponsored as the Kiddie Parade, baseball game, pig chase, and others.

Each club will also be asked to

Large H. S. Grad Class At Anaheim

At commencement exercises Thursday evening in Anaheim park, boys and girls of the large senior class numbering 243 graduates, received diplomas. This number equalled the class of 1938, previously the pace setter for enrollment.

In speaking to the class of 1952, J. Roger Deas reminded them that when they were born they were called "depression babies" whose parents were "almost without hope for the future". But because people did not lose hope, the country pulled out of the depression and increased its living standards. Deas was a former secretary to Governor Earl Warren who is now with the American Can company.

The Baccalaureate address on Sunday was delivered by the Rev. John Zimmer of the Linda Vista Methodist church of San Diego.

Local Students

From the senior class, a large number are from this area. Among those graduated were James Ard, Alice Beazley, Chuck Bell, Margaret Colbaugh, Neal Collins, Rita DeGennaro, Duane Duncan, Lois Fanning, JoAnn Felt, Warner Gedney, Richard Gonzales, David Hahn.

John Houston, Carlene Korn, Bob King, Rodney Lee, Gloria McKinzie, David Nielsen, Kathryn Reeves, Phillip Ruberio, Dick Shield, Marian Simmons, Nancy Smith, Stanley Spicer, LaVerne Stanley.

More About P. O. Curb

A. E. "Pat" Arnold contacted the ENTERPRISE after its publication last week, with regard to the installation by the state highway department of a curbing in front of the post office.

Arnold stated that the sidewalks were put in as long ago as 1928. He did get an "easement", he said, to extend the sidewalk when the block of buildings was constructed a few years ago.

Under the law, Arnold stated, the curbing may be deleted if the opening left is used for a driveway. The state has funds allocated for 25 feet of curbing, and only used up 12 feet in front of the post office. It is pure speculation as to where the other curbing will be installed. There is no curbing in front of the tin building on the south side of the street which housed the fire department before it moved to the new building. The opening east of Rick's watch shop was once a driveway for the fire department, several years ago, and is still technically a driveway.

It is only the merest coincidence that the opening in the curb just happened to be in front of the new post office building, "Pat" said. According to his explanation, the drive was originally to Hugh LaRue's general store, which he operated in the early history of Cypress.

UNRULY KIDS

A Penn State College professor recently offered a couple of significant quotes about the younger generation which supports the contention that they're getting out of hand. First quote: "The children now love luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority. They show disrespect for elders, and love chatter in place of exercise. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, and tyrannize over their teachers." Second quote: "Our earth is degenerate in these latter days...children no longer obey their parents". The first came from Socrates, the second from an Egyptian priest about 400 B. C.

...It has been said that if you don't stand for something you may fall for anything.

... You Can't take it with you—and the tax collector won't let you keep it here, either.

AIN'T IT THE LIMIT!

Believe it or not, there was once a great fear in this country that federal income taxes might go as high as 10 per cent!

That was 40 years ago when the only thing scarcer than a tax payer was a tax collector. But even in those days people could surmise what might happen to the tax rate. They turned out to be pretty good surmisers—too good!

Since that time, income taxes have become a common part of American life—in fact, so much a part of it that they now threaten to become the whole thing. With Uncle Sam dipping ever deeper into profits and paychecks there is a rising clamor for restraint of some kind to limit the amount the old boy can take. Stung by the angry complaints from people at home, a half dozen congressmen have introduced resolutions calling for Congress to submit a tax limitation amendment for approval of the states.

Meantime, the debate is growing over the proposed 25 per cent limitation on taxes which was launched 13 years ago when taxes were nothing like they are now. Twenty-seven state legislatures have gone on record favoring the limitation, and polls indicate that the general public favors it too, by a 3 to 2 margin.

The one overriding thought in all this is the increasing realization that some brake must be applied on taxes. As long as there is no limit to what the people can be taxed there will be no limit to what the politicians will spend.

(P.S. In 1913 the income tax "take" was $85 million. The proposed 1952-53 federal budget calls for $85 billion. See what we mean?)

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

This weekly letter, as I hope you have long since realized, is mailed in Washington about one week before you read it. Occasionally I can cut that to six days. It has never been intended to compete with the news wires, which tell you the actions of the Congress sometimes, if you were to believe the clock, before they actually happen in Washington. We have a three hour difference. When I first came down here, my friends didn't always remember that, when they wanted to phone me.

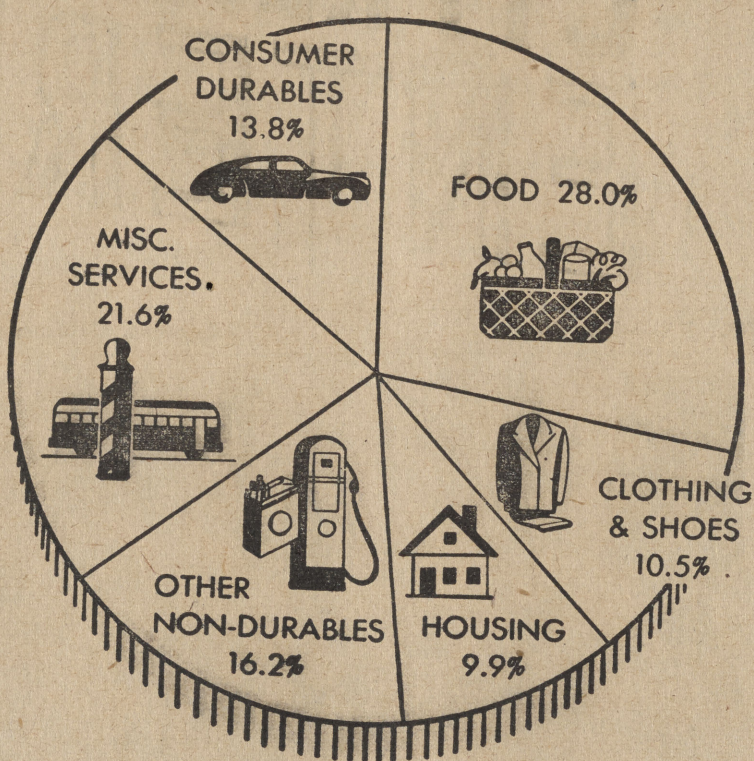

I write this letter two weeks ahead of the time you will read it. You will be more interested anyway in the columns giving the election returns than in a column in which I rise to remark. So will I! I will use an item I have been saving in a folder on my desk. The reason for early preparation is that I hope to spend the 8 days before the election in the District.

Do you know how and why California can have no "uninstructed delegation" on a ballot? Or why you no longer see the names of the delegates themselves? I blush to tell you! We made changes in the election laws in 1941. I was in the Senate. More and more initiatives were going on the ballot, each election day. The number of delegates to the Presidential conventions was about to increase to 56, and this year it will be 70. The ballots were getting larger, and worse than that, the voting machines, then used in San Francisco, had no more spaces. To keep making them larger meant a problem for the manufacturers.

They came to the Legislature and asked us to change the law, and put on the ballot only the name of the Presidential candidate. That is why, last Tuesday, you had only two little boxes: "Candidates Preferring Thomas H. Werdel," or "Candidates Preferring Earl Warren." No names of the proposed delegates themselves, which might have helped some voters make a choice, and on authority to say one is or is not an uninstructed delegation. That has to be done, in an election, through other methods of publicity. I think we made a mistake. I think the Legislature should put back the names of the delegates, and perhaps allow an indication that one delegation, if it wishes, is not

WHERE CONSUMER DOLLARS GO

The outlook for consumer goods in 1952, as indicated by a National Association of Manufacturers study, follows:

FOOD: Food supplies in 1952 are expected to be sufficient to maintain domestic food consumption per person at least as high as in 1951.

CLOTHING AND SHOES: Industry operating more than 20% below peak capacity. Plenty of room for expansion if demand increases.

HOUSING: Increase in population, 1940-1950, 13%; increase in number of available residences, 23%.

OTHER NON-DURABLES: No scarcity in sight for tobacco, alcoholic beverages, gasoline, or other items in this category.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES: Includes laundries, barber shops, transportation, etc. No scarce materials involved.

CONSUMER DURABLES: Consumers well stocked up already, and the prospective supply will be adequate.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

A glance at election returns from the June 3 primary gives impulse to an Essay on the Public's Political Peculiarities.

The results put the ax to axioms of one sort or another. But one such seemed to stand up pretty well. That was the accepted belief that an old and honored family name is a political asset of the pledged to any candidate. I think it would be a good idea for the Legislature to consider the method, used in some states, of letting separate districts nominate and elect their own delegates, who then join to form the state delegation.

As a matter of fact, no matter what you read in the papers, or hear on the air, there is on such thing as a delegation, in California, so controlled by any candidate that he could or would use it to trade, as a bloc of votes. I have long felt that California, as a state, made too little use of its strength, in such a delegation, or in the Congress, for the benefit and protection of California, and the west. I have felt, in the same way, that the Congressional district, particularly my own county, was inclined to dwell on internal matters, to the exclusion of an interest in state and national matters, which could put the District in a better position, but these are personal opinions.

What the delegate says he will do, if he is elected to a Presidential delegation, is to support that candidate, to the best of his judgment and ability, as a nominee for President. This could be for one ballot or a dozen. The point I am making is that a determination, and the decision regarding his individual vote, always rests in the delegate. It has always been that way in the republic. It was so originally in the electoral college. The basis of our government, and the source of its greatest strength, lies in the individual responsibilities of the men and women we elect to office—in the effort to get the best men, in this instance for president, and in the effort to get the best possible laws—and, I rise to remark, the fewest laws!

People vote for names they know. They vote for names printed at the top of the ballot. They vote for names with "incumbent" written after them. They vote for almost any reason except intelligent analysis of candidates or issues.

The family name axiom was tested on several fronts in the primary election. It worked for James B. Utt, of the pioneer Tustin Utts, in his campaign for Congress. He ran away with the Republican nomination and carried the Democratic primary too, so far as Orange county was concerned.

But down in San Diego county, where the family name was not known, the Democrats flocked to their own candidate, Van Deerlin, who won his party nomination.

Utt has also demonstrated that the family name doesn't always work. He was once defeated, as an incumbent, in a race for the Assembly with Senator Clyde A. Watson of Orange, who has a well known name himself, if not as old a name in Orange county as Utt's. More recently, in 1947, Utt lost a contest for a seat on the Santa Ana city council.

Speaker Sam L. Collins of the State Assembly, long prominent in public life, had a name well known to nearly everyone in Orange county, yet he was nosed out in the State Senate race. There are three essentials to a successful campaign and they were, at least in this instance, more powerful than a well known name. Those essentials are a strong candidate, a strong working organization, and a fat bankroll.

But the old family name axiom worked for the most part at the primary. It worked for LeRoy Lyon, Jr. of Fullerton in his race for the Assembly. It worked for Supervisor Ralph McFadden, seeking re-election in the Third district. And it worked for Judge Ronald Crookshank, campaigning for election as Judge of the new Santa

Journalism Society Honors Nurse Leader

Miss Shirley Titus, executive director of the California State Nurse's Association who recently addressed the Orange County nurses, has been given the achievement award of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic society.

Miss Titus is well known throughout California by the nursing profession, according to Mrs. Ellen Nugent, 6871 Indiana street, public relations chairman of District 16. She was cited for her outstanding leadership of C.S.N.A.'s economic security program to improve nurses' welfare. As working standards of California nurses improved, Miss Titus took up the work nationally as chairman of the American Nurses' Association committee, and internationally as a member of a special committee on economic welfare of the International Council of Nurses. Local nurses are happy over the award.

ORGANIC FERTILIZATION versus chemical fertilizers is the basis for this experiment with tobacco plants being carried on at the Nutrilite Research Laboratories in Buena Park, California. The smaller plant on the right has been growing the same length of time as its competitor on the left, and under similar conditions, except that it was planted in soil which was treated with chemical fertilizers. The apparently healthier plant on the left was nurtured in organic compost and silica sand. Comparing the leaves is Ralph Cramer, who conducted the experiment in the agricultural experiment department of the laboratory.

Growing Plants In Solution Solves Many Problems Of Soil Deficiency

When the armed forces stationed troops on many of the islands of the Pacific group during World War II, they were faced with the difficult problem of how to grow fresh vegetables for the men in soil that was usually nothing more than plain sand.

A solution was reached, however, and the men got locally grown, fresh vegetables. The answer was hydroponics—or growing plants in liquid.

Valuable to Science

This method of raising plants by putting the nutritional elements needed for proper growth into a solution used as the growing medium, has opened many new possibilities for the researcher who is studying means of improving the quality of crops.

Unlike soil, water as a growth medium will receive and feed to the plant, carefully controlled amounts of nutritional elements with which the researcher wants to test the plant. For instance, to see what effect minimum and maximum amounts of nitrogen will have on growth of alfalfa, the experiment might take place in ten rows of tanks in which the alfalfa is placed.

Nitrogen Experiment

A very small amount of nitrogen would be placed in the solution in the first tank, along with average amounts of other elements. In the second tank, more of the nitrogen would be fed in, and so on until the tenth tank had a large percentage of the element.

After the alfalfa has grown to maturity, it can be tested, and results compared to see which tank received the proper amount of nitrogen.

The experimenter then tests hopes to be able to determine the combination which will produce the highest quality alfalfa.

"But how is the plant supported in water?" the observer might ask.

This problem is solved by constructing a mesh screen above the tank, and the plant is fastened to the screen, leaving the roots to dangle in the solution. Air must be fed into the liquid to give the growing plants oxygen. After the plant has grown for a few weeks, it protrudes through the top of the screen, using it for support. Sometimes at this point, the plant is transplanted in clean sand.

Work With Nutriculture

At Nutrilite Research Laboratories in Buena Park, California, researchers are experimenting with a slight variation of hydroponics called nutriculture. Instead of a growing medium of liquid, the tanks are filled with a carefully washed layer of crushed rock, with a layer of clean silica sand on top. The nutritional elements are forced into this porous medium by electric pumps and the principal of hydroponics is still in force, except that the roots have something in which to take hold. Another advantage in using sand is that the oxygen does not need to be pumped in.

Tanks Are Lined

Constructed of cement, the tanks are lined with asphalt so the chemicals will not react with the cement and contaminate the solution. The growth ingredients are fed from the end of the tank, into soil pipe which runs the length of the bottom. The joints of the pipe are spaced slightly apart so that the chemicals can seep into the gravel. The pipe is covered with porous glass cloth to keep the gravel from working into the solution at the bottom of the tank.

An electric pump at the end of the tank pumps the chemicals into the bed, and allows the operator to set it so solution can be fed for any amount of time he chooses, after which the pump automatically turns itself off and gravity forces the solution back into the tank. It can also be set to feed at any desired interval during the day or night.

Cypress Volunteer firemen quelled a large grass fire north of town Saturday afternoon.

Print Final Globe Issue

Members of Mrs. Henrietta Arnold's sixth grade, who are the editors of the Cypress elementary school paper, "The Globe", wound up another successful year with their final edition released on Friday last week.

As a climax to their year's study of journalism, the mimeographed sheet is honored at its last run by blossoming into a bona fide printed news sheet. Kroesen's Printing, owned by Burt Kroesen, handled the production for the class.

Donna L. Rooney, James H. Bock Wed In Lovely Church Ceremony

At an altar decorated with white stock and candelabra, in the dim light of the burning tapers, marriage vows were repeated by Miss Donna Lee Rooney and James H. Bock Saturday evening at eight o'clock, at the Cypress Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. W. D. Howard officiated in the single ring ceremony.

Mrs. Courtney Miles, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. The groom's attendant was his brother-in-law, Arlan Pentecost. The bride's father gave her away in the simple rites witnessed by many friends and relatives, after he accompanied his daughter down the aisle.

The bride chose a pale green taffeta sheath dress with an overskirt of net shot with gold. She wore shoes of matching color and carried gardenias surrounded by small rose buds. Her sister wore a dress of orchid trimmed in white with white accessories. Mrs. David Bock, a sister-in-law, lit the white candles preceding the entrance of the bridal party.

Soloist during the ceremony was Nolan Blackman, who sang "Because", "I'm yours" and "The Lord's prayer". He was accompanied at the Hammond organ by Mrs. Howard, who played all the nuptial music.

The new Mrs. Bock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rooney, 5662 Crescent ave. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bock, Sr., 9172 Miller rd., who is employed in Corby's barber shop. The couple has taken up residence in Cypress following their short honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Miles entertained at a reception following the wedding in their home at 8472 Gay st. Mrs. Miles was assisted in hostess duties by hers and the bride's mother, Mrs. Rooney, Mrs. Donald Boettcher, Mrs. Wesley Kroeze and Mrs. James Coburn. The guests were served wedding cake, whipped jello and coffee. The bridal pair made a get-away after greeting their guests and cutting the wedding cake.

MISSIONARY MEETS IN WESTMINSTER

Members of the women's missionary society of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene motored to Westminster Monday night. There they were guests of Mrs. Herbert Orban, who attends the local church. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Stearns and her daughter, Miss Judy Stearns, in serving a delicious repast following the business meeting.

Present in addition to those already named were Mes. A. S. Kuykendall, J. T. Thrower, J. A. McCoy, Leon Ferguson, Walter Allen, Melvin Callahan, Edward Riddle, T. M. Wirth, P. K. Allen, Norville Chapman, Hal Shirey, Jeff Davis.

Meeting nights have been changed from the second Monday in the month to the first Tuesday night. A date for the annual friendship dinner was also announced. To be held at the church on the evening of July 15, each member will bring a guest.

Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Howard left Sunday evening for Kansas City, Missouri, where they will attend the general conference of the Nazarene church which headquarters there.

Mrs. Edgar A. Hubbard and baby son arrived by plane from New York Tuesday evening to join her husband here. They are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard for the present.

Club Meets At Van Dykes

When the Cypress Women's Community club held its June meeting Tuesday, Mrs. Jake Van Dyke was hostess in her spacious home at 5252 Orange ave. She was assisted by Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler and Mrs. Frank Noe. A dessert combining strawberries and angel cake was served prior to the business meeting.

Mrs. Earl Essex, president, described plans for a White Gold day this year. The group voted to retain the two booths they have sponsored in the past. When VFW auxiliary plans for a "pavement dance" were explained, it was voted to have a booth at that, also. A profit of $6.20 was realized from the "come as you are" breakfast at Mrs. Dyer's it was reported.

Mrs. C. E. Swain read the thought for the day to the 18 members present. Mrs. Van Dyke won the mystery prize.

MRS. M. DYER HAS BREAKFAST

One of the popular "come as you are" breakfasts surprised many members of the Cypress Women's club at an early hour Friday morning. Mrs. Mabelle Dyer planned the affair in her home at Cypress Cottages. She was assisted by Mrs. Rena Switzer, Mrs. Burt Kroesen and Miss Beth Kroesen.

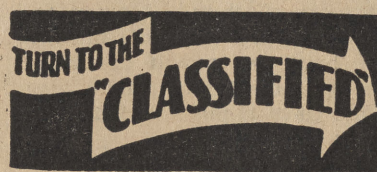

The guests arrived in groups, and lingered over their rolls and coffee until various duties of the day called them away.

Mongillo Pleads Not Guilty To Burglary, Assault

Trial of Orazio Roger Mongillo on a charge of burglary at the Evensen market in Buena Park May 19 was set for July 28 in Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison's court at Santa Ana when Mongillo pleaded not guilty.

He also is charged with assault on Dale Kroesen, former Buena Park newspaperman, who pursued him from the market and brought him down after a long chase.

In court last Friday, Mongillo also denied a 1948 conviction of grand theft in San Luis Obispo. His attorney, A. C. Barney, moved for dismissal of the assault charge, contending that Mongillo had no intention of using the knife which Kroesen said he displayed when Kroesen caught him.

MANAGEMENT CHANGES

Larry Schott has assumed management of Cypress Cottages, where he and his wife and little daughter will reside. He is employed as an outdoor contractor.

Mrs. Mabelle Dyer, who has developed the project to its present scope, will visit her son and his family, the Hetcor Dyers, in Midland, Texas, until fall. She was feted extensively the past week by her many friends as gestures of farewell.

Little Richard Bock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bock, was taken ill after a wedding ceremony Saturday evening, before he left the church. He was released from the hospital the next day. It was thought he suffered a mild attack of appendicitis.

LYNX TAKE 2 OUT OF 3 FROM VISITING RAMBLERS

Ford Hoffman's Phoenix Ramblers succeeded in winning only one of the five game series they played in a week-end Southland tour and that was from the Lynx in Fullerton Saturday night. They dropped two games to the Lynx, one Saturday night 4-0 and the second Tuesday 1-0.

In addition, they bowed to the powerful Orange Lionettes twice by scores of 4-0, and 7-3.

Less than 300 fans were on hand Friday night as Tommie Slappey elbowed a nifty, three-hitter and the Lynx belted Marie Rogers, "Miss Softball of 1951" for seven blows and a 4-0 victory.

Slappey whiffed six batters and two of the Ramblers safeties were taps to the infield.

Lu Mahoney laced three straight singles and Bobbie McDaniel blasted a triple and single for the winners.

The Lynx nearly became the victims of two no-hitters in one week Saturday night. Bertha Rag-an twirled a perfect game against Bud Averett's nine last Wednesday and Margie Law of Phoenix had a no-hitter going until Tommie Slappey came through with a single to left field with two outs in the last of the seventh. Law whiffed 14 batters while walking three.

Joan Alsop was equal to Law for the first six frames, allowing only two singles and not permitting a runner to go past first, but the roof caved in in the seventh.

The Ramblers, who had been blanked for 27 straight innings by Lynx twirlers, racked up four runs on a single by Virginia Dobson, a double by Corrine Carr, a fielder's choice, a costly error by Carolyn Broady and a single by Claudine Matthews. That was the ball game.

Bev. Meissen returned to the mound Tuesday night to blank the invaders 1-0. The Lynx meet Monterey Park here tonight and travel to Fresno for a pair on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Five persons were injured, one seriously, last Saturday in a crash, at Cerritos ave. and Hansen st., near Cypress, Alexis Pelous, 35, 8246 Miller st., Buena Park, being the principal victim. His car collided with a car driven by Harmon Cassey, 34, of Barstow. Pelous was taken to Fullerton general hospital. Cassey, his wife, Geneva, 33, and two sons, Joe, 10, and Harmon Jr., 13 months, were treated at the same hospital and released.

Harold Pugh left for Hamilton Ohio, on business for his firm the Martin-Decker company, Sunday morning. He will make several stops on the flying trip.

Fabulous Berry Farm Grows Even Larger

People who say, "I've seen Knott's Berry Farm and Ghost Town" may be fooling themselves unless they have visited the famous attraction very recently.

Even a year of passing time can make a great difference in the appearance and the number of attractions in such a fast-growing town.

During the past year some of the outstanding additions out of a great many, are the narrow gauge railway, the Calico Saloon, the medicine show, an addition to the chicken dinner restaurant seating over 100 persons and a huge, modern kitchen for the rapidly expanding Buffalo steak house.

Knott's bought the last operating narrow gauge railway in the country which, as a mixed passenger and freight train wound its way along the tortuous and scenic gorge of the Rio de las Animas de la Perdita (river of lost souls). The engine, built in 1880, with its four coaches, made its maiden run on the 47 mile Silver-ton-Durango branch out of Durango, Colorado.

As a freighter, it carried ore from the fabulously rich mines of the San Juan districts of Southwest Colorado. As a passenger train, its coaches and two quaint old parlor cars, furnished with individual revolving plush seats, were often crowded with men of great distinction, rubbing elbows with questionable characters from the bars and card rooms of the era.

Walter Knott has laid several miles of track through Ghost town and invites the people of today to recapture some of the reckless spirit of by-gone days by riding on the train just as it looked in the days when it helped make history.

Some visitors at the Farm are just a mite shocked by the new Calico Saloon built and bedecked with all the equipment of a real saloon of the 49er period. Even going early days one better, the picture back of the 50 foot bar, painted by staff artist Paul von Kleiben, covers the entire wall and portrays a bawdy Saturday night in Calico, California.

To complete the effect of the old time barroom, the entertainment provided free at regular intervals includes singing of old-time ballads, can-can dancers, soft shoe dance routines and a little skit to the music of "Father, Oh Father, Come Home With Me Now". Occasionally one of the card players gets shot just to add to excitement of the place.

An old-fashioned "doctor" stands on the platform of a typical medicine show wagon and sells a miraculous cureall called Knott's Boysenberry elixir. Guaranteed to cure all the ills known to man and some others as yet undiscovered, the buyer at least gets his money's worth from watching the entertainment the "doctor" stages to attract people to listen to his "pitch".

On April 27, the Mark Smith Horse Show, now the Rodeo Revue, was auditioned on TV by the

Fire Hazard High In East Orange County

Restrictions on smoking and camp fires in the mountainous eastern section of Orange county became effective June 1 and during the ensuing season of fire hazard, State Forest Ranger J. A. Scherman of Orange announced today.

Scherman said the "no smoking or camp fire" signs were posted Monday throughout the territory known as Fire Zone No. 1, limiting such activity under provisions of a county ordinance designed to protect the county's mountain watershed.

Fire Zone No. 1 roughly covers the forest, watershed and range lands lying easterly of Irvine park, El Toro and San Juan Capistrano.

Because last winter's heavy rains produced an unusually large crop of weeds and grasses, the coming fire season is expected to be critical, said Scherman, reaching this peak of hazard during late summer and fall.

To prepare for this hazard, the state forest service has completed maintenance and grading along more than 200 miles of fire roads and truck trails throughout the county, to facilitate rapid dispatch of men and equipment to any threatened area.

Lookout stations, the "eyes of the forestry department", have been staffed and are ready to sound warning of the first tell-tale signs of smoke, said Scherman. Summer fire fighting crews are being built up and will be complete by July 1.

This will provide an initial force of five crews, which is augmented by 21 volunteer fire departments scattered over the county and available during any emergency.

In addition, under a mutual aid arrangement, fire fighting crews and equipment can be summoned from other counties of the Southland and from military bases, such as El Toro marine base and March field. Aid of the military has been of great assistance in fighting fires, CBS network with the thought of doing a 13 week series of shows for the CBS national hookup on Saturday or Sunday afternoon.

The show was not seen locally but was sent to the station where it was kinescoped (put on film) and sent to the main office in New York for approval. The result of this audition should be known shortly.

If successful, both the Rodeo Revue and the Berry Farm will receive much helpful publicity from the TV series.

Meanwhile, the exciting Revue with bucking bronses, trick riding and calf roping, is presented each Saturday and Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Horse Show Arena.

Scherman declared.

The county weed abatement program of inspecting and condemning lots grown to weeds or having other fire hazard, is another weapon against fires. Lots are inspected, notice given to the owner of any fire hazard, and the danger abated by the county if the owner does not act himself.

COUNTY COMMENT

Ana-Orange Municipal Court.

Of course these candidates had merit too. But the family name didn't hurt a bit.

The November judicial contests were thinned out by primary majorities which elected two judges: John Shea of Anaheim in Anaheim-Fullerton Municipal Court district, and Judge C. C. "Gavvy" Cravath (another well known name) in Laguna Beach-San Clemente Justice Court district.

Two of the three remaining contests appear to be as good as settled. Orange county's only woman judge, Celia Young of Huntington Beach, is well out ahead of Justice Elmer Hughes of Seal Beach in their district, as they start the November runoff. Judge Ronald Crookshank, in Santa Ana-Orange district, also piled up a primary lead that looks quite safe.

But down in Newport Beach Justice Court district, the long judicial career of Judge Donald J. Dodge of Costa Mesa is seriously threatened after his 22 years on the bench. Strangely enough, it is his home town that is jeopardizing his election.

At the primary Judge Dodge had only 89 votes margin over a young newcomer, Attorney A. K. Phelps of Corona Del Mar. And Phelps beat Dodge by 189 votes in Costa Mesa.

Judge Dodge, as a member of Newport Harbor high school board, voted for annexation of the high school property to the city of Newport Beach. That tore it, so far as some of his fellow townsmen in Costa Mesa were concerned.

Fireworks Stand Permits Issued

Permits for two permanent business improvements and four Fourth of July fireworks stands in the Buena Park-Cypress area were granted by the county supervisors Tuesday, on recommendation of the county planning commission.

Thomas D. Chrestman was granted a permit to establish a trucking business at Walker st. and Crescent ave., Cypress. John C. Vieira, Cypress dairyman, was granted permit to erect a hay barn at Denni road and Orange ave., Cypress.

Fireworks stand permits were granted to W. E. Altnow, at Orangethorpe blvd. and Hanson st., Buena Park; Liggett Lancaster and Jack Holloway, Lincoln ave. near Bloomfield st., Cypress; Lottie B. McFann, Lincoln ave. near Denni st., and R. G. Watkins, same location, in Cypress.

MORGANS JOIN IN SUIT TO COLLECT FOR FLOOD DAMAGE

Following the recent example of other neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Morgan of Cypress have filed suit in Superior Court at Santa Ana against Mr. and Mrs. Job J. Denni, Job J. Denni, Jr., and the Cox Bros. Construction Co. asking $11,000 flood damage.

The complaint charges that the defendants filled in a natural water course, causing diversion of last winter's storm waters across the plaintiffs property, making their home unusable and washing away $1000 worth of top soil.

The Morgan five-acre place is southwest of the Denni property. Attorney Elmer Guy filed suit for the plaintiffs.

GOD PRESERVES MAN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BIBLE LESSON SAYS

Biblical illustrations of God's power and willingness to preserve and heal those who trust in Him will be read as a part of the Sunday sermon in all Christian Science churches. The subject will be "God the Preserver of Man." The Golden Text is from Psalms: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (91:1).

A Bible selection from The Acts (7:9,10) relates, "The patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him, And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "All things work together for good to them that love God," is the dictum of Scripture. "Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.'" (pp. 444)

Roses Adorn News Office

Roses from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sidfrid, 6761 Stanton Avenue, have brightened the office and lightened the labors of the staff of the Buena Park News this week. Perfect buds of all colors and shades were brought in by Sidfrid. The busy pounders of typewriters and wielders of pencils immediately wanted to know the name of that deep red one, the "coppery" bud, the slender pink one and pure white rose!

The writer made a call at the home and found that the Sidfrids have 30 different varieties of beautiful roses, sturdy bushes covered with large perfect blooms, but alas! They buy them for their beauty and color and not for their names, and could not identify them!

It shows a true love of the beautiful when color and form are what count, and not the patented name. We shall look for roses in the nursery which resemble the Sidfrid's.

Beside roses, they have other flowers, several still in the seedling stage of growth but the "Queen of Flowers" predominates, and he has promised us more when the next buds open.

Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Damron had dinner at the Balboa Bay Club with Mrs. Arnold Birt of Indianapolis and Mrs. R. E. Damron of Huntington Park recently.

Noted Scientist Is Speaker Kiwanis Club

Dr. E. B. Rubloff, research chemist in the C. P. Rehnberg Laboratories in Buena Park, was the featured speaker at the Cypress Kiwanis club Monday night at Loyd's Drive-in.

His talk covered the subject of "What Is Science Research?" and he discussed work being done in the field generally, as well as illustrating his points with personal experiences. Dr. Rubloff has had many years of experience in commercial research, as well as other fields such as commercial photography.

He was the guest of Dale Kroesen, who was program chairman for the evening. Dick Hathcock presided, and Miss Alene Rogers accompanied the group singing.

Lindell "Lindy" Burk, youngest child in the Burk family at 7921 Electric street, was very ill last week but has improved until she is practically the same as ever again.

Clubs Will Be Asked To Pick Two White Gold Day Representatives

furnish two members to sit in on the planning sessions of the White Gold Day committee meetings, and aid in organizing. In this way, it is felt that work will be distributed and not fall on the shoulders of a few individuals.

Date Will Be Set

Announcement of the first organizational meeting will be announced soon. The date for the celebration will also be set at this meeting.

Workers are always needed for White Gold Day, and in the past many people have indicated they would like to participate. Whether they have a special event they would like to help with, or if they are willing to take any job available, such persons are asked to get in touch with Caul, Schmitt or Kroesen.

Other business discussed at the meeting included the block party which is to be held by the VFW Auxiliary July 19. That group had come to the Chamber to get its sanction for different types of booths and events which had been planned for the affair. It was decided that the Chamber could not officially go on record with an opinion, but that it was up to the individual clubs which participated as to the type of activities which would be sponsored.

Philip Arbiso Jr. Welcomed Home

Philip Arbiso Jr. arrived from Korea last week on the U.S.S. E. P. Collins. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Arbiso, 6112 Western avenue, drove to Camp Roberts on Thursday to bring him home for a 30-day furlough.

Philip wears the purple heart badge with an oak leaf cluster, as he was wounded twice on the Korean battlefield.

On Sunday, the Arbiso family gathered at the parental home for a chicken dinner, to welcome him. Coming from San Jose were Mr. and Mrs. John Ramirez (Rose Arbiso) with their children Pricilla, Amy, John Jr. and the year-old twins, Christine and Ernestine.

Others present were Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Tafoya (nee Faye Arbiso) and daughters, Phyllis and Natalie, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arbiso and Edward Jr. all of Artesia; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Vargas, (Cora Arbiso) their daughters Cecilia and Arlene, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arbiso, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Arbiso and daughters, Virginia and Eleanor of Buena Park. A cousin, Gilbert Arbiso, his wife and son, Raul, of Wilmington were also present.

On Saturday evening the members of the family are inviting their friends to a dance in the parish hall of St. Pius V Catholic Church honoring Philip Jr.

Mrs. G. A. Blackman's mother, Mrs. Eva Webb, has arrived in Cypress from Odessa, Texas. She plans to make her home here. Mrs. Webb was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Vida Bromley, who will visit before returning to her home in Amarillo.

POLIO NURSES ARE NEEDED IN COUNTY

The Orange County Nurses' Association is asking that any nurse who is willing to do polio nursing on an emergency or temporary basis, please contact the District office by mail or phone—58 Plaza, Orange. Phones: Orange 1001 or KI 3-7692.

An attempt is being made to set up an emergency call panel to care for polio patients as needed. This is in cooperation with the Orange County Health Department, and the Orange County Hospital.

For a generalized emergency, the National Polio Foundation may be asked for help, but the responsibility of the local areas, is to care for its own as far as possible.

A request is also made for pieces of woolen blankets white or light colors to be used in hot packs at the county hospital. The need is urgent as the supply is insufficient. Call the county hospital for instructions or deliver them there. Miss Ellen Nugent, 6871 Indiana st. is the local member of the public Relations Committee.

Ed Hermanson, who has made his home the past year at the Rick Townsview home, recently purchased a poultry and rabbit ranch at 7342 Orangethorpe blvd. He and R. W. Kinnaman of Anaheim, a fellow Douglas employee, will occupy the tenant house. Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Lipuma and family will live in the residence.
